A. J. Hill, bricklayer, plasterer and contractor, has recently returned from West Paris where he has erected an 80x100 foot, two-story building for the West Paris Grange. Leon Yeaton, manager of Central Park, says they are fitting up and putting it into shape with the intention of having an entertainment at the park during the winter months. The building is being sheathed and two large towers are to be put in and if it cannot be kept warm in this way a steam plant will be put in. Mr. Yeaton has retained the tenement over William C. Leavitt's store, and is to set up in house keeping shortly.

The concert given last Friday evening, under the auspices of the graduating class of the Norway high school, was highly attended but the concert was on high order. The merry appearance of the young men and courteous bearing won them friends immediately. Their selections were excellent and well rendered. The interpretation, phrasing and voice showed careful training. Their voices were well balanced. The solos were well rendered and received hearty encore. The quality of the concert deserved a much larger audience.

Last Sunday was Rally day at the Universalist church and Sunday School. The pastor preached on the duty of rallying to attain the aim of the church, and especially upon the failure of the Sunday school to promote this aim. The Sunday school session was largely attended. The Sunday school orchestra rendered selections. The pastor conducted the lesson exercise for the school. Richard Stiles read an essay on Peter and Paul. A stirring practical talk on the value of the Bible school as a school of character was given by Chas. S. Akers, who spoke from his experience in the business world and from 37 years experience in the study and work of this Sunday school.

W. C. T. U. Teachers' Convention.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its fourth annual Teachers' Reception, Wednesday evening, Sept. 29. This reception is a very pleasing event and valuable in that it gives the parents and friends of the school a chance to become acquainted with the teachers. The hall was prettily decorated with cut flowers and autumn leaves, with huge bunches of hydrangea.

The receiving line was headed by our new superintendent, Mr. Felch, and his wife. Next came the high school teachers, and then the grade school-ma'ns, and a long and imposing line they made. The guests were presented to the receiving line by young men and maidens who acted as usher.

The program was especially fine. Mrs. Edith Bartlett read two excellent selections and Sue Wheeler and Sara Washburn sang pleasing solos. Then came the speeches which were full of good thoughts.

Rev. Mr. Rideout spoke of the home influence of our pupils. He said that though the teachers can do much in moulding a child's character, they can do very much more by backing up a good, wholesome, clean home influence. The home and the school should work together and in sympathy if the best results for the child are to be obtained.

Rev. Mr. C. Ward spoke of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union as a splendid organization, calling it "organized mother love." He said that the Union is doing a splendid work in bringing the home, the school, and the church together in such pleasant gatherings as the Teachers' Reception are proving to be. He spoke of the good that this grand temperance organization is doing over the whole civilized world, and said that temperance must be taught our children if they are to make good citizens.

Superintendent Felch spoke very earnestly of the good that may be done in helping along our boys and girls to obtain an education. He urged the teachers to strive to develop the gem that is often hidden in the rough exterior of the pupil. Truly Mr. Felch is the friend of the boys and girls, and will do all in his power to lead our young people to become splendid men and women.

Herman Horne represented the school board, and spoke very appreciatively of the high grade of work done by our teachers, stating that they are underpaid and ought to receive higher wages. Refreshments of delicious fruit lemonade and fancy crackers were served by Miss Mattie Cummings and Mrs. Alice Stearns, assisted by the Senior girls.

The rest of the evening was spent socially, the guests remaining till a late hour, and reluctantly departing from one of the most pleasant occasions of the year.

Camp Fire at Bethel.
Harry Rast Post and W. R. C. of Norway, W. K. Kimball Post and Ladies of the G. A. R. of South Paris were guests of Brown Post of Bethel, Wednesday. About thirty-five members went from the two towns. G. A. R. Posts and W. R. C. from Oxford and Rumford were also invited.

The scenery over the Grand Trunk was beautiful and inspiring and we were welcomed at Bethel by Commander True who accompanied us to march through the town before going to the hall. "Because I wish to show the company off, I am so proud of you," he said.

The patriotic citizens had decorated houses and stores with flags and bunting and we were given a cordial welcome at the large G. A. R. Hall. Walks and auto rides about the picturesque town were enjoyed and at "twelve sharp" all sat down to a bountiful repast, after which a pleasing program of music and songs was given by the Senior girls. A beautiful G. A. R. Hall.

F. A. Shurtleff Dead.
The death of F. A. Shurtleff occurred early Thursday afternoon, Sept. 29, after a brief illness following an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Shurtleff was taken ill Sunday while at church. He was removed home and grew worse. His condition was such Monday that it was thought best not to move him and Dr. John Thompson of Portland came in an automobile Tuesday and performed the operation. All day Wednesday Mr. Shurtleff's condition was considered critical.

Mr. Shurtleff was the son of Alonzo E. and Hannah Louise (Tribou) Shurtleff, born in Maine, July 22, 1833. He has two sisters, Emma A. Shurtleff and Della M. Shurtleff, and a brother, Arthur K. Shurtleff of South Paris.

At the age of 5 he began attending school in what was then known as the Brick School House, W. H. Bolster being the teacher. He continued to attend the village schools until 1878, Professor R. J. Everett being at that time principal of the high school.

He was born in Portland and until he was five years of age he lived there. Since then South Paris has been his home.

On leaving school at the age of 15 he entered the employ of A. M. Gerry, the druggist, and remained with him until 1882. From that time until 1887 he was clerk in the drug store of A. S. Hinds in Portland, and while there he was a registered pharmacist.

In 1887 he returned to South Paris and started in the drug business for himself. Jan. 1st, 1899 he took into partnership Charles H. Howard and the business was continued under the name of F. A. Shurtleff & Co. In February, 1906, the business was incorporated with Mr. Shurtleff as president and treasurer, Mr. Howard vice president and Mr. Clark clerk. A drug store has also been run some time at West Paris and during the summer at Paris Hill, and the past summer one at Old Orchard.

Mr. Shurtleff has been prominent in the business affairs of the town and village. He has been treasurer of the village corporation since 1890, and treasurer of the town since 1898. He was a director of the Paris Trust Company and had been president of the Board of Trade. He had been treasurer of the Mt. Mica Building Association since 1905; was financial secretary of Mt. Mica Lodge of Odd Fellows from 1890 to 1900; secretary and treasurer of the Durell Hill Cemetery Association; collector for the Norway Water Co. and a number of insurance companies.

Mr. Shurtleff had been an active member of the Congregational church for nineteen years, and treasurer and clerk of the church fourteen years.

He was a member of Mt. Mica Lodge of Odd Fellows, Aurora Encampment, Mt. Pleasant Rebekah Lodge and Hamlin Lodge, Knights of Pythias. In politics he was a Republican.

Mr. Shurtleff married Laura Clifford, daughter of Charles H. Clifford, Oct. 19, 1859, and had one son Stanley, born Nov. 16, 1891. On June 20, 1897, he married Mary Frances Parsons, daughter of Deacon Stephen Robinson Parsons, who survives him.

His son, Stanley, is now a clerk for F. A. Shurtleff & Co.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church at 2 o'clock, Sunday, in charge of Mount Mica Lodge, I. O. O. F., with Hamlin Lodge, K. of P., acting as escort. There was a large attendance of the members of both orders, and a congregation which filled the church.

A male quartette rendered appropriate music.

The bearers were R. D. Bolster, Franklin Maxim, E. N. Haskell, Nelson G. Elder, Walter L. Bonney and George R. Morton.

A great quantity of beautiful flowers were arranged about and above the casket. Rev. A. T. McWhorter spoke appropriately from the two texts: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace," and "And they went and told Jesus." Following this was the funeral service of the order by the Odd Fellows. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

Myrtle Buck spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in West Sumner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Penfold and daughter, are visiting relatives in North Waterford.

Edith Brown, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Alice Thayer, has returned to her home in Chicago.

Stanley M. Wither has returned to the University of Maine where he has two more years to complete the course.

A special town meeting will be held, Monday afternoon, Oct. 4 at 2 o'clock, to choose a town treasurer to succeed the late Frank A. Shurtleff.

Mary H. Taylor is spending a few days with relatives here before her return to Boston. Miss Taylor has recently returned from a three months' trip abroad.

Eight of Grace Dean's girl friends gave her a very pleasant surprise party at her home on Western avenue Saturday evening. They brought refreshments and a very pleasant evening enjoyed.

The new organ which is to be installed at the Baptist church is expected to arrive sometime the last of October. After it is installed an organ recital will be given by one of Estey Co's. organists.

Both European and Seneca clubs will hold their opening sessions of the fall on the night of Oct. 6, when Mrs. Chas. Briggs will be hostess of the European meeting and Mrs. Frank Taylor will entertain the Senecas.

A harvest supper was given Tuesday evening by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church at their vestry, and in the evening there was a musical entertainment with readings by Mrs. Harriett F. Marble of Gorham, N. H.

The winter schedule on the Grand Trunk went into effect on Sunday. Times of trains going east are 5:30 and 9:50 a. m., and 4:30 p. m.; going west, 9:50 a. m., and 3:30 and 8:47 p. m. The Sunday excursion train to Portland is discontinued. The Sunday excursion train to Berlin will run through October on the same time as all summer.

I only hope my statement will be the means of bringing relief to some one suffering as I have. For a long time I was made miserable by a pain in my back. My kidneys did not act in a proper manner and the secretions were very unnatural. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me a great deal. # "Annie Laurie."

A New Version.
O, sweet and true and tender
Comes to me that old refrain
With thoughts of love endearing
That almost throbs with pain.
"We've never had the love of love,
Where early falls the dew;
And 'twas there that Annie Laurie
Gave me her promise true.
I seem to see the evening close
A round as they are saying,
That Scotch lad and lassie
Where none could make afraid.
I hear the highland lute now,
Low rippling on its way,
And mark the sunset o'er its fall
As fades the closing day.
Among the heather blossoms
The happy lovers wait;
They did not dream of sorrow then,
They knew not what it meant.
"For now is like the snowdrift,
Her throat is like the swan,
Her face it is the fairest
That ever the sun shone on.
"That's e'er the sun shone on,
And dark blue is her eye,
And for Annie Laurie
I'd lay me down and die."
O, happy lover singing
Of those sweet days of love and low,
You never dreamed that from her side
You would be parted so.
You never dreamed that she would be
Aught to ease you but true,
And for Annie Laurie
You wandered mid the dew.
O, broken hearted lover,
Who did so long,
Your songs will ever thrill us
With the melody of love.
O, spirit brave and loyal!
For these we breathe a sigh,
"I'd lay me down and die."
MOSES GAGE SHIRLEY.

They Didn't Have to Change.
During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.
The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.
It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that every one needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.
The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Oats; regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter both with and without china.

How White Mts. were Named.

We who live in sight of the White Mountains will be glad to read how these mountains got their names—a question we have often asked ourselves. R. C. Denham tells the following in the Coo's Democrat:

While approaching Groveton in a railway train a few years ago, the writer heard a conversation between two men, regarding the heights commonly known as the Perry Peaks, and which one of the disputants insisted were the "Starbuck" Peaks; the question being referred to the passenger in the next seat, a farmer, he answered that they were the "Starbuck" Peaks. The three were left in the train arguing the subject; and all were right, because these striking mountains have borne all three appellations.

They are generally known today as the "Perry Peaks," though it is difficult to determine by any other person to these features. He was acquainted with all the pioneers, and for many years resided in Hart's Location.

One prolific source for names has been the work of chance visitors, who have applied those that have been preserved by usage among guides, thus becoming known to other visitors and the local inhabitants.

Considering the haphazard manner in which the members of the grand White Mountain family have been christened, perhaps they have not suffered to a greater extent than other groups on the continent. Like Topsy, many of them seem to have simply "growned," and become engrained on noble peaks which any one was mindful that good taste would be violated.

Of all the names that distinguish the principal peaks, those of local Indian origin bear the palm for pleasing euphony as well as appropriateness. They are even better than their imported brethren, Teanumseh, Oseola, etc., in the vicinity of North Woodstock.

Where there is a more happily named group than these aboriginal titles have been some in the Sandwich Range—Ochooos, Passaconaway, Panguis, Woonah-lance? It is a pity they gave out before they reached Whiteface, Tripitymid, and the Sandwich Dome.

Lincoln and Garfield are honored with names, but that is no reason why every President should be thus commemorated. Garfield was formerly "Haystack" (there are still plenty of Haystacks all around), and where a change of name would be an improvement, such action might fill a long list in preventing confusion.

Soon after President McKinley died, there was a proposition to change the name of Mount Pleasant in the Presidential Range to Mount McKinley, but it was abandoned. Mount McKinley has been known and pointed out to visitors for three generations. A principal hotel bears its name, which, as we have seen, was given to it simultaneously with those applied to others of its neighbors. If any one has the privilege of bestowing names, it belongs by right to first visitors.

The round mountain in Kilkenny is called Mount Willard from Jonathan Willard, who came here from Cheshire, Mass. The other Mount Willard near Bretton Woods, as before stated, was named for Clerk Willard of Boston. Near Groveton an abrupt hill is called Cape Horn, and another Cape Horn overlooks the road near the Halfway House on the side of Mount Washington. Colebrook has a Mount Monadnock, which does not detract from the glory of the great mountain of the same name further south.

There was a Gulf of Mexico between Mount Washington and the Northern Peaks until the Appalachians christened it the Great Gulf; but after a score of years the old name sticks to the brains of many.

Laubster boasts of a Mount Pleasant, like the Presidential Range. Last but not least, we have a genuine Bunker Hill, quite as big as that in Charlestown, and with a full supply of the Spirit of '76 on and around it.

There are still mountains in plenty to be named, and there will be the same lack of system in naming them in the future as in the past. If you ask, "What's in a name?" We answer, a good deal, when unnecessary duplication leads to confusion.

At a country fair out in Kansas a man went up to a tent where some elk were on exhibition and stared wistfully up at the sign. "I'd like to go in there," he said to the keeper, "but it would be mean to go in without your family, and I can't afford to pay for my wife and 17 children." The keeper stared in astonishment. "Are all those your children?" he gasped. "Every one," said the man. "You wait a minute," said the keeper. "I'm going to bring the elk out and let them see you."

WHAT IS HYOMEL?
You Have Heard About the Catarrh Cure Noyes Drug Store Guarantees.

Hyomel is a wonderful antiseptic, so powerful that it promptly destroys germ life, yet its action is so innocuous that it is extremely soothing and healing. It relieves catarrh in five minutes; it cures in a few weeks or money back. It is made chiefly of eucalyptus and eucalyptol taken from the eucalyptus forests of Australia. The medical profession knows that eucalyptus is an absolute certain germ destroyer and with the active principles of eucalyptus as a base Hyomel is made more efficient. It is pleasant and quick acting by the addition of Thymol, an antiseptic and disinfectant largely employed in the Listerian System. Guaiacol and other important medicinal agents are also included in the Hyomel formula, which, without doubt, is the greatest destroyer of catarrh germs the world has ever known.

Hyomel is a powerful, penetrating antiseptic that is pleasant to use. It does not contain a particle of cocaine, opium or any habit-forming or injurious drug. No dosing the stomach, when you use Hyomel. Just breathe it in through the small inhaler that comes with each outfit. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Norway by Noyes Drug Store. $1.00 for complete outfit. 35-40

It has been stated elsewhere that Mount Franklin got its name in some such manner as Washington, but Professor Hitchcock ought to be good authority. No one knows who named Mount Clinton, but it was known as such before 1897. Abel Crawford called it Bald Hill. Mounts Clay and Jackson were named by Mr. Oakes, the botanist, who gave the name to Oakes Gulf.

Mount Willard was named from Mr. Sidney Willard, for a long time clerk of court at Boston, but no one knows who named Mount Webster, once known as North Mountain.

Dr. S. A. Bemis gave the names to Crawford, Resolution and Giant's Stairs. In his study of the subject, Professor Hitchcock found it difficult to determine the origin of many of the names of natural objects about the mountains.

Dr. Bemis has perhaps applied more appellation than any other person to these features. He was acquainted with all the pioneers, and for many years resided in Hart's Location.

Best Way to Tie Cattle.

A much discussed question throughout dairy sections is the most suitable method of tying cattle in stables, and the general health and condition of as well as profit from the herd depend largely upon the method adopted. A recent writer in the Agricultural Epitomist discusses the question in the following manner.

The question of suitable means of fastening or confining cows in their winter quarters is one that should receive consideration, for on the physical comfort of the cow much depends. Not only will she yield more milk if she can stand in a natural position and lie down and get up with ease, but dangers from straining can thus be avoided which have been known in some cases to lead to abortion.

After citing instances in his own experience to prove the ill effects of fixed stanchions, such as injuries to individual cows and shortage of milk flow from the entire herd, he continues, "It may not always be practicable to build individual stalls but some arrangement can be devised which will keep each cow where she belongs and yet allow freedom of motion."

There are certain so-called swinging stanchions which admit of considerable freedom of the head and also provide for movement backward and forward as the cow lies down and gets up. Stanchions of this type are in use in the stables of many of our leading dairymen who have studied the question of animal comfort and claim for these stanchions as favorable results in milk production and gain in weight as can be secured in any other method. But it must be admitted that the use of a chain tie or rope about the neck is the ideal method of confining cattle, provided there is sufficient room.

Where there is a more happily named group than these aboriginal titles have been some in the Sandwich Range—Ochooos, Passaconaway, Panguis, Woonah-lance? It is a pity they gave out before they reached Whiteface, Tripitymid, and the Sandwich Dome.

Lincoln and Garfield are honored with names, but that is no reason why every President should be thus commemorated. Garfield was formerly "Haystack" (there are still plenty of Haystacks all around), and where a change of name would be an improvement, such action might fill a long list in preventing confusion.

Soon after President McKinley died, there was a proposition to change the name of Mount Pleasant in the Presidential Range to Mount McKinley, but it was abandoned. Mount McKinley has been known and pointed out to visitors for three generations. A principal hotel bears its name, which, as we have seen, was given to it simultaneously with those applied to others of its neighbors. If any one has the privilege of bestowing names, it belongs by right to first visitors.

The round mountain in Kilkenny is called Mount Willard from Jonathan Willard, who came here from Cheshire, Mass. The other Mount Willard near Bretton Woods, as before stated, was named for Clerk Willard of Boston. Near Groveton an abrupt hill is called Cape Horn, and another Cape Horn overlooks the road near the Halfway House on the side of Mount Washington. Colebrook has a Mount Monadnock, which does not detract from the glory of the great mountain of the same name further south.

There was a Gulf of Mexico between Mount Washington and the Northern Peaks until the Appalachians christened it the Great Gulf; but after a score of years the old name sticks to the brains of many.

Laubster boasts of a Mount Pleasant, like the Presidential Range. Last but not least, we have a genuine Bunker Hill, quite as big as that in Charlestown, and with a full supply of the Spirit of '76 on and around it.

There are still mountains in plenty to be named, and there will be the same lack of system in naming them in the future as in the past. If you ask, "What's in a name?" We answer, a good deal, when unnecessary duplication leads to confusion.

At a country fair out in Kansas a man went up to a tent where some elk were on exhibition and stared wistfully up at the sign. "I'd like to go in there," he said to the keeper, "but it would be mean to go in without your family, and I can't afford to pay for my wife and 17 children." The keeper stared in astonishment. "Are all those your children?" he gasped. "Every one," said the man. "You wait a minute," said the keeper. "I'm going to bring the elk out and let them see you."

The Future of Our Girls.

The public school officials all over this country are beginning to think seriously of the institution of a domestic science department in the schools and well they might be, for the recent report of a New York educational society states that only one out of every hundred scholars in the grammar and high schools know how to make a cake or a loaf of bread.

Isn't this a bad state of affairs? In the Puritanic days, every girl was taught housekeeping. Since that period, musical and literary education has supplanted housekeeping.

In answer to thirty queries as to their housekeeping ability, all of the girls in the Wakefield, Mass., high school said they could make lovely fudge, but only a dozen of them could make bread.

While we do not essay to disparage the musical and literary attainments of our scholars, we believe that there is more attention paid to them than there should be. If a girl spends an hour practicing on a piano, she should spend two on preparing herself for her general destiny—housekeeping.

While domestic science should be in the school curriculum, the home is the real place to begin the instruction. Mothers should begin to teach their girls in the art just as soon as they are old enough to understand.

One of the best institutions in Rumford at the present time is the sewing circle. The ladies who are the leaders should receive liberal financial aid from the people. They are carrying on a work that will be the means of saving many a girl from poverty in the future.

Should Blood Tell?

I see in the items of the Advertiser, in the premium list, where a highly bred, thoroughbred was turned down this year at the fair and an inferior bred one won off the blue ribbon. It is rather poor encouragement for those who are putting large sums of money into pure bred sires for the improvement of stock. We have looked upon the Agricultural Society as being a body to those who are trying to improve their stock. It does not look like help in this case. When a committee make such a decision as that without investigating, it looks as though there was something that was not right. I believe in better stock, and if we have it we have got to breed for it. Our country is full of cheap bred sires that are no improvement to our stock.

Fryeburg.

New Masonic House.
Pythagorean Lodge of Masons, which observed its hundredth anniversary a few years ago, on the 27th celebrated the opening of its new hall and was the degree for the first time in quarters of its own. Dr. Seth C. Gordon of Portland, past grand commander of Maine, came up especially for the evening and was the chief speaker. Other speakers were J. A. Farrington of Lovell, ex-district deputy; Fred W. Powers of Portland, still a member of this lodge; D. A. Ballard, county commissioner; Seth F. Heald of Lovell.

Oysters, coffee and all kinds of pastry were served, the new dining room and equipment being used for the first time. This lodge will have a ladies' night soon in celebration of the completion of the hall.

Meetings have been held in it for many years, but it was always rented until by the will of A. R. Jannet, a wealthy resident of Fryeburg, this lot and building were turned over to Pythagorean lodge.

For several months the repairs have been in progress. The color scheme in red was worked out harmoniously. The furniture was made especially for the lodge and the upholstery, carpet and frescoing are very attractive.

The room has been enlarged and a new entrance arranged. The banquet hall, as well as the lodge room, has been remodeled, the total cost of repairs to date being over $2000. A sewer is yet to be entered and other work done.

Fryeburg people are especially interested in Peary's exploits at the far North, because, after he was graduated from Bowdoin college he spent several years in this lovely mountain village with his father, Madam Peary, who was a sister of Mrs. Martha Nuttall, who used to own the grove, later known as Martha's grove, headquarters for the Methodist campmeetings and Chautauqua assemblies.

Lovers of good horse flesh never pass by the bay gelding owned by Wallace T. Tarbox of Fryeburg without a second glance. This is a Kentucky thoroughbred one of the famous pair once owned by Anna Held and valued at $8000, which took the blue ribbon for matched fancy pairs in two different seasons at the New York horse show. After the horses passed out of Anna's possession on Oct. 1, the other one was sold soon after to Mr. Tarbox. The horse still bears the name applied to him by Miss Held, Adriaens, the name of the now dead mate.

Benjamin T. Newman, the artist, has been urged to hang out his sign by the highway whereby strangers in town might become aware of his pretty little studio, overlooking the intervals, and be tempted to visit it for a glimpse of his oils and water colors and for an acquaintance with the man. An incident of a few days ago has convinced him of the value of his friends' argument. A passing auto chance to be stalled in front of his residence and the ladies in the party were invited to visit a tire could be replaced. A visit to the studio was in order and when the party left, an hour later, Mr. Newman was the better off by the sale of several hundred dollars' worth of work.

NORTHEAST LOVELL.

Mrs. Clinton Milliken.

Mrs. Clinton Milliken of Portland died at her husband's parents' home, Saturday, Sept. 25, at about 11 o'clock. She came here after her little girl who has been spending her vacation with her grandparents.

She didn't feel very well when she left home, but her husband being busy, she thought it was her duty to come as her little girl's school was to commence soon.

Soon after she reached here she was taken sick and they had the doctor from Waterford and as she grew worse they sent for her Portland doctor and everything was done that could be to keep her. Her death was caused by typhoid fever. She had certainly suffered long. She was only 31 years of age. The bearers were Orrington Rowe, John Kendall, Henry Horv and Vernice Harriman.

Rev. J. W. Card spoke words to comfort the family. George Eastman and Mr. Card sang two hymns, one was Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me, the other, Nearer, My God, to Thee.

The flowers were very pretty. There were some from L. B. Chipman, Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Chipman and Mrs. M. J. Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Starbird, Mrs. George Eastman and Isabelle Andrews and bouquets from lots of others.

She leaves a husband, two little children, a girl nine years old and a little boy five, and mother, brothers and lots of friends to mourn their loss. She was buried over $2000. A sewer is yet to be entered and other work done.

THE 59TH FRYEBURG FAIR.

Tuesday the weather was decidedly damp, but it was a good rain for a fair, for it was so rainy that no one thought it possible to have a fair. A day that is threatening or a little rainy at times is the worst Fair weather. The date of the opening of the West Oxford Fair was postponed Wednesday and fine weather was the result, that day and the next. The weather-wise call them "weather breeders."

The special passenger scheduled for the fair from Portland, that was to run the big day, Wednesday, was set forward one day, to Thursday. Two cattle-show dances were given, one by the Red Men, the other by Pythian Sisterhood in Eastman's hall. As many as could find room to dance attended.

Parley S. Brown, who has sold tickets on the grounds for several years, is at Portland, where he has had an operation for appendicitis, and Seth F. Heald of Lovell sold tickets this year.

Every available room in town is occupied this week and the biggest crowd in the Societies history is here.

The academy, which was to close Wednesday and Thursday for the fair, will run until Wednesday night, when the sessions will be done for the week.

There is more live stock than usual on hand and the swine and poultry exhibits are larger than usual. F. W. Mason's Heralds from Freedom are one of the largest and best exhibits down in the cattle sheds. S. E. Easton of Brownfield has the largest ox yet entered. Lovers of good horse flesh never pass by the bay gelding owned by Wallace T. Tarbox of Fryeburg without a second glance. This is a Kentucky thoroughbred one of the famous pair once owned by Anna Held and valued at $8000, which took the blue ribbon for matched fancy pairs in two different seasons at the New York horse show. After the horses passed out of Anna's possession on Oct. 1, the other one was sold soon after to Mr. Tarbox. The horse still bears the name applied to him by Miss Held, Adriaens, the name of the now dead mate.

Benjamin T. Newman, the artist, has been urged to hang out his sign by the highway whereby strangers in town might become aware of his pretty little studio, overlooking the intervals, and be tempted to visit it for a glimpse of his oils and water colors and for an acquaintance with the man. An incident of a few days ago has convinced him of the value of his friends' argument. A passing auto chance to be stalled in front of his residence and the ladies in the party were invited to visit a tire could be replaced. A visit to the studio was in order and when the party left, an hour later, Mr. Newman was the better off by the sale of several hundred dollars' worth of work.

Should Blood Tell?

I see in the items of the Advertiser, in the premium list, where a highly bred, thoroughbred was turned down this year at the fair and an inferior bred one wore off the blue ribbon. It is rather poor encouragement for those who are putting large sums of money into pure bred sires for the improvement of stock. We have looked upon the Agricultural Society as being a help to those who are trying to improve their stock. It does not look like help in this case. When a committee make such a decision as this without investigating, it looks as though there was something that was not right. I believe in better stock, and if we have it we have got to breed for it. Our country is full of cheap bred sires that are no improvement to our stock.

FRYEBURG.

New Masonic Lodge. Pythagorean Lodge of Masons, which observed its hundredth anniversary a few years ago, on the 27th celebrated the opening of its new hall and worked degrees for the first time in quarters of its own. Dr. Seth C. Gordon of Portland, past grand commander of Maine, came up especially for the evening and was the chief speaker. Other speakers were J. A. Farrington of Lovell, ex-district deputy; Fred W. Powers of Portland, still a member of this lodge; D. A. Ballard, county commissioner; Seth F. Heald of Lovell.

Oysters, coffee and all kinds of pastry were served, the new dining room and equipment being used for the first time. This lodge will have a ladies' night soon in celebration of the completion of the hall.

Meetings have been held in it for many years, but it was always rented until by the will of E. J. Jernigan, a wealthy resident of Fryeburg, this lot and building were turned over to Pythagorean lodge.

For several months the repairs have been in progress. The color scheme in red was worked out harmoniously. The furniture was made especially for the lodge and the upholstery, carpet and frescoing are very attractive. The ante-room has been enlarged and a new entrance arranged. The banquet hall, as well as the lodge room, has been remodeled, the total cost of repairs to date being over $2000. A sewer is yet to be entered and other work done.

Fryeburg people are especially interested in Fry's exploits at the far North, because, after he was graduated from Bowdoin college he spent several years in this lovely mountain village with his mother, Madam Perry, who was a sister of Mrs. Martha Nutter who used to own the grove, later known as Martha's grove, headquarters for the Methodist campmeetings and Chautauqua assemblies.

Lovers of good horse flesh never pass by the bay gelding owned by Wallace E. Farbox of Fryeburg without a second glance. After the horses passed out of Anna's possession one died. The other one was sold soon after to Mr. Tarbox. The horse still bears the name applied to him by Miss Held, Actraena, the name of the now dead mate.

NORTHEAST LOVELL.

Mrs. Clinton Milliken.

Mrs. Clinton Milliken of Portland died at her husband's parents' home, Saturday, Sept. 25, at about 11 o'clock. She came here after her little girl who has been spending her vacation with her grandparents.

She didn't feel very well when she left home, but her husband being busy she thought it was her duty to come as her little girl's school was to commence soon.

Soon after she reached here she was taken sick and they had the doctor from Waterford and as she grew worse they sent for her Portland doctor and everything was done that could be to keep her. Her death was caused by typhoid fever. She has certainly suffered lots. She was only 34 years of age. The bearers were Orrington Rowe, John Kendall, Henry Horr and Vernice Harriman.

Rev. J. W. Card spoke words to comfort the family. George Eastman and Mr. Card sang the hymns, "O Lord, Thy Saviour," "Pilot Me, the other, Nearer, My God, to Thee."

The flowers were very pretty. There were some from L. B. Chipman, Dr. M. J. Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Sturbridge, Mrs. George Eastman and Isabelle Andrews and bouquets from lots of others, too many to mention.

She leaves a husband, two little children, a girl nine years old and a little boy five, and several brothers and sisters. The total cost of repairs to date being over $2000. A sewer is yet to be entered and other work done.

ANDOVER.

He Gets the Cane.

E. Milton Cutting of Andover is 85 years of age and the oldest resident of that town. Mr. Cutting was a guide at Richardson Lake for one man on all his trips covering a period of 40 years, and now he is remembered every birthday with a present of a cane for as many dollars as he is years old; his friends think this speaks eloquently for the man's character. His longevity is attributed to a hardy constitution, outdoor exercise and a simple, regular life.

Davis of Upton has a crew cutting pulp on the Noble Small farm.

Mrs. Nora Archibald of Boston has been the guest of Mrs. Milton Cutting.

Oscar Dam and wife with William Mitchell and wife will furnish the supper for the North Agricultural ball, Oct. 5th.

The 59th Fryeburg Fair.

Tuesday the weather was decidedly damp, but it was a good rain for a fair, for it was so rainy that no one thought it possible to have a fair. A day that is threatening or a little rainy at times is the worst fair weather. The date of the opening of the West Oxford Fair was postponed till Wednesday and fine weather was the result, that day and the next. The weather-wise call them "weather brooders."

The special passenger scheduled for the fair from Portland that was to run one day, to Thursday. Two cattle-show dances were given, one by the Red Men, another by the Christian Sisterhood in Eastman's hall. As many as could find room to dance attended.

Perley S. Brown, who has sold tickets on the grounds for several years, is at Portland, where he has had an operation for appendicitis, and Seth F. Heald of Lovell sold tickets this year.

Every available room in town is occupied this week and the biggest crowd in the Society's history is here.

The academy, which was to close Wednesday and Thursday for the fair, will run until Wednesday night, when the sessions will be done for the week.

The other granges are the Eaton from Chatham, N. H., and the Fryeburg Grange.

There is more live stock than usual on hand and the swine and poultry exhibits are larger than usual.

F. W. Nason's Herefords from Freedom are one of the largest and best exhibits down in the cattle sheds. S. E. Easton of Brownfield has the largest oxen yet entered. Town teams are numerous, Brownfield, Denmark and Hiram having two each and Portland, one.

Shorthorns—H. D. Hadden, East Fryeburg. Grade Ayrshires and Guernseys—Mr. Rankin, Hiram. Holsteins—Ernest Webster, Conway, N. H.

Among the poultry exhibitors, J. S. Givpatrick of Hiram is a new man with some good breeds.

L. E. McIntire of Waterford judges the live stock and Mr. Davidson of Conway Center, the poultry.

In the stables are a goodly number of horse engines, the International Harvester and large fields of starters. H. H. Lee of Saviour, Pilot Me, the other, Nearer, My God, to Thee.

Many visitors are tenting on the grounds and are enjoying the fair and a picnic at the same time. The midway is bristling with tents and vocal with fairs.

Wednesday the Portland and North Conway teams played baseball. Fryeburg and Westbrook played football, Thursday.

The third day there will be grange exercises with speaking.

The hall has a bewildering amount of fancy and useful articles manufactured by the ladies. Mrs. Florence Gibson of North Conway has decorated china; Hayward, the taxidermist, has mounted the usual of flying, walking and creeping wild things. The farm products are a credit to this section. Richard Pattee, lecturer of the New Hampshire State Grange, will judge the hall exhibits.

Rachel Western, Fryeburg, son, portraits in oil and studies in landscape; oil by Cary Bradley, Fryeburg.

Mrs. L. F. Sawyer of Hiram a case of pigeons, homers; also a pair of Flemish rabbits. H. F. Lord, Denmark, shows birds, turkeys and brown leghorns. James Sargent, Hiram, exhibits Pekin ducks. Fred Kennison, Fryeburg, Rhode Island Reds.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

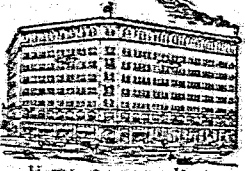

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance, indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder, every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and soiling pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free from Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Deer Cautious and Intelligent.

In spite of the occasional surprising boldness of deer, experienced hunters always act upon the theory of their extreme timidity and cautious intelligence. No hunter lying in wait for deer likes to have any other animal or even a bird approach his ambush.

There are those who profess to believe that there is an understanding for mutual protection between wild creatures, but it is a good deal more likely that deer draw conclusion from the conduct of birds and beasts rather than that there is any direct method of communication between the deer and other denizens of the woods. A hunter lying in wait for a deer was discovered by a crow and the crow of the bird at the sight of the man sent the deer lying near because the crow was intended to give the beast notice of danger but because in the experience of the deer the call of the lone crow usually indicates the presence of something unusual and the unusual may be dangerous.

Stalking deer is a game which is most delicate of woodland arts, depending for success upon minute acquaintance with the habits of the animal, a knowledge of the stream and great skill in handling both craft and paddle. The hunter must know the parts of the stream in which he is likely to encounter his game, the marks of the deer's recent presence and the topography of the stream and the country through which it flows.

If he means to shoot off a photograph he must have a companion who handles the paddle, the weapon or the camera. The task is more delicate with the camera than with the rifle, since the hunter is such that some sort of flashlight must be used to photograph the game and the rifle is a more certain instrument than the camera. An ingenious but illegal method improvement on the old-fashioned back for night hunting is a rifle with a flashlight attached which dazzles the deer, excites his curiosity and delays his flight for the precious instant that the hunter needs.

Bird and beast join to make canoe stalking uncertain business. The expedition is undertaken just after the first sunset hour when wild things of many kind begin to be active.

Sometimes it is a foolish mother duck that flutters for many yards in front of the canoe under the impression that her brood is the hunter's object, or among times a heron rises in front of the noiseless canoe and floats off advertising to the wilderness that something strange is on the stream. Even the muskrat's sudden escape at sight of the boat may be enough to excite the fears of the deer.

Hunters truly believe that the deer with all its timidity and intelligence does not observe a stationary boat and its occupants, provided there is nothing marked in the coloring of either. Thus a canoe of about the same color as the foliage along the banks of the stream does not fix the attention of the deer unless it looks up when the boat is actually moving. The practiced deer-stalker knows too that a deer at pasture along the bank of the stream, or among the lily pads cannot see an approaching object as long as it has its head down. A deer thus feeding lifts its head every few minutes to look out for danger and at such moments the approaching canoe must be stationary.

The first hunter reported shot this season was Carroll H. Austin of Turner, who was shot by Albie Mitchell, a companion. One of the shots entered the thigh, one the lobe of the right ear and the third shot penetrated his right eye. The episode was reported as purely accidental, but they all are.

Improvements.

Improvements seem to be the order of the day. A fine chapel organ, the best the Betsy Co. of Boston make, has been placed in the Congregational church. It was given by the grand old and great-grandchildren of the late Samuel Tyler, assisted by other relatives and friends.

The Universalist church has undergone extensive repairs, which greatly add to the comfort of those worshipping there.

L. M. Giles is making extensive repairs on his buildings besides having in process of erection a fine house for his own occupancy.

The summer guests have nearly all departed.

It is expected that the Union Conference will be held here Oct. 27-28.

Rev. S. M. Albanian, who has been serving the Congregational church since June, 1908, and during whose stay many improvements have been made, is about leaving for Massachusetts.

Now the Real Battle.

The explorers are at home and the welcomes have been extended. But it cannot be said that it is all over but the shouting. The real battle is about to commence. Some think it will be hot enough to melt all the ice in the Arctic regions. It is stated that during the coming week Commander Peary will give to the world the reasons for his assertion that Dr. Cook never saw the North Pole.

That is the proper course. Commander Peary has made charges that his rival is an impostor. Such charges should be supported with proof without delay. They are too serious to be left without such support. Let the evidence be placed before the world. It will be awaited with interest.

Such a controversy was never waged before. Two men come out of the frozen North at the same time, each claiming to have reached the Pole. That Peary was there is certain. That Cook was there would be accepted without question had not Commander Peary issued his challenge.

As it is, fair minded people who know little about Arctic exploration are waiting with open minds to weigh the evidence presented. In justice to both men that evidence should be forthcoming.—[Sunday Times.]

Hunting for Big Game.

The Highlands of Ontario is an ideal spot for the sportsman during the open hunting season for big game. In the Temagami region moose are plentiful and may be killed during the period from October 15th to November 15th. This territory is a forest preserve of vast extent, and in addition to being the hunter's paradise, its waters abound with game fish of many species. The home of the red deer is located somewhat to the south of Temagami, particularly in the district known as "Muskegon Lakes," "Lake of Bays," "Maganetawan River," "Lake Nipissing," and "Kawartha Lakes" territories.

Write to J. Quinlan, G. P. A., Montreal, for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game." Issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System which fully describes the hunting territories reached by this line, giving game laws, maps and all information.

Coat Over a Separate Wool Skirt.

Returning to the economy combination of the tailored suit with life garments, a third variation may be affected with a trig walking skirt of checked or invisibly striped material over which the long coat will look very smart of a morning. This outfit, with a supply of pretty blouse, some of tucked satin or fancy silk, some of white linens or madras, and at least two of chiffon and net—will give the little bride a very satisfactory supply of garments for various occasions.

And, of course to match these costumes will be several hats; one of the new high-crowned turbans with a pert, stiff brush at the side for morning wear, and perhaps a soft, furry beaver affair trimmed with velvet for alternate wear.

The afternoon costume demands a dress hat—perhaps a feather-trimmed model; and let the canny bride put her pennies into as handsome ostrich plumes as she can buy, for often economies must grow instead of diminishing in the first few years of married life, and fine feathers will often solve the problem of a winter hat. Besides these street hats there should be one dainty model for evening wear.

A charming evening hat is illustrated, lace and velvet being combined in happy effect, delicacy being suggested with no hint of flimsiness. The lace crown and brim are airy in character, but the velvet edge makes the hat emphatically a winter model. At the side is one of the new mercury wings of ornate metal. In this case the wings sprout from a cabochon, shades of yellow, orange and deep brown blending with the brown velvet brim of the hat.

Veils.

Unlike all Gaul all veils may be divided into four parts: chiffon, net, chenille dotted and lace. The first division is somewhat interchangeable, for chiffon veils may be worn with almost any costume although, of course, when they are to appear with lingerie gown, the veil should be light in color. The second division, net veils, may also be worn as one sees fit, though they should not be used with a plain costume and a strictly "sailor hat."

To wear with a lingerie hat and a typical summer gown one must either have a light chiffon veil or else a veil of white lace. One can see at a glance why these two are the best choice, for they both soften the lines and go toward making the summer girl what she is in song and story. Lately some of the smart women have been wearing white lace veils upon the street with afternoon costumes, in which case they are fastened back tightly, for such a running in the face of accepted rules is a bad, and must be done correctly or not at all.

Fannie Tibbetts entertained a party of ladies on Monday afternoon at her lovely home on Main street. Dainty refreshments of tea, sandwiches of various kinds, cakes and confections were served.

The Congregational circle was entertained, Thursday evening, at the farmhouse of George Walker, three miles from the village. Between fifty and sixty people were present, being conveyed by single and double teams, buckboard, automobile. After a social hour supper followed and all did ample justice to the bountiful display of appetizing food. The table decorations were unusual for the time of year, being bouquets of lovely apple blossoms, the second flowering of the trees, the first having been destroyed by worms. During the evening piano solos were given by Jessie Walker, Charlotte Hodson and Edna Eastman.

NORTH WATERFORD.

$3.75 Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker and a complete assortment of MOTHER'S CEREALS - all for $2.84

The Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker actually cooks without fuel. It solves the servant problem, the fuel problem and the delayed dinner problem. It saves 80% of your present coal or gas bills, and 90% of your present kitchen worries. When you own a Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker, you simply place your oatmeal (or anything else that you want to prepare) on the stove, bring it to a boiling point, remove, place in Fireless Cooker, put the pad in position, tug the draw-string, and go to bed. While you're sleeping, the food will keep cooking itself. Nothing can boil over or burn or spoil. During the day you can start soup or joints or vegetables, place them in the Cooker, visit your neighbor, go to the matinee, or shop, without any thought of a hot, stuffy kitchen range.

Now, there is only one way that you can get a Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker, unless you want to go to a store and pay $3.75 for it, and that is by being a user of Mother's Cereals, the best cereals, prepared in the largest mills, and sold everywhere by the best dealers in every town. In every package we place a coupon, and when you have 125 coupons we'll send you the $3.75 Fireless Cooker for nothing. If you want a Fireless Cooker in a hurry, you can either buy ten packages of MOTHER'S OATS or any other Mother's Cereals, and get the Cooker immediately by paying $1.15 in cash or upon the following basis:

50 coupons and $.75 cash
35 coupons and .90 cash
25 coupons and 1.00 cash

A Mother's Kit

which contains a complete assortment of different delicious cereals for every palate and for every meal. Not only is it an advantage to buy your staple cereals in sufficient quantity at attractive prices (just as it's cheaper to buy flour by the barrel or butter by the crock) but in every Mother's Kit there is in addition to the saving of quite a considerable sum of money, a special Fireless Cooker Certificate, equal to eighteen coupons, which, when added to the coupons from the packages in the kit, enables you to secure a Cooker by merely adding 89 cents. A Mother's Kit consists of eighteen assorted packages of Mothers Cereals, packed in sanitary sealed packages, in which they are guaranteed to keep in perfect condition indefinitely.

8 packages of Mother's Oats, standard size
2 packages of Mother's Yellow Corn Meal
1 package of Mother's White Corn Meal
1 package of Mother's Wheat Flakes
1 package of Mother's Corn Flakes (Toasted)
1 package of Mother's Old-Fashioned Steel Cut Oatmeal
2 packages of Mother's Granulated Hominy

Mr. Caswell, who was boss of the cutting machines, while adjusting the belt, caught his right hand in its winding his arm around the shaft which lifted him up, his head against the timbers that the shaft was hanged from. His arm was so badly lacerated that it was necessary to amputate it between the shoulder and elbow.
Great excitement prevailed among the employees, women fainted etc. Mr. Caswell was taken as soon as possible in an automobile to the home of Dr. J. P. Blake, where doctors Sylvester, Wright and Yebb were summoned, and the operation performed.

The Shaw Business College

PORTLAND, BANGOR, AUGUSTA

WHEN this institution was organized, Oct. 1, 1884, we determined to conduct it along the line of truth, right and common sense. Now, at the end of a quarter of a century of continuous success, we feel confident that our policy has been appreciated. We have never wilfully mis-represented our facilities or those of our competitors. We have always given our patrons opportunity to prove our claims before payment was required. For the future we promise a continuance of this policy, and take pride in the name often applied, "The School of Results," and shall so interest ourselves in the success of our future pupils as to be inclined to a continuance of this name. Our 86 page catalog may be had for the asking. Ask now.
